WELCOME ONE ANOTHER FOR THE GLORY OF GOD

Romans 12:7

So often as we approach Lent we ask ourselves - what should we do for Lent. Here are a few suggestions. Do something that hurts. What can I give up in order to help others? Every decision we make means denying ourselves something.

If I choose to spend more quality time with my children than I may have to give up time on my screens, ipad, iphone, computer, etc.

Helping someone in need, reaching out to a lonely or depressed person, contacting a sick person, healing a broken relationship, doing a good turn for another, etc. (the list is endless) - all means giving up some pleasurable things that I like to do. Selfless acts help us to order our priorities—God, others and then self.

Whatever we choose to do as our Lenten practice, let us do it with hearts filled with gratitude.
